

Introduction

Penny rugs were borne out of the traditions of the early 1800's where people had to make do with what little they had.

From bits of wool scraps and felted wool scraps, they crafted functional items for their homes that reflected their creativity and ingenuity. A penny rug was used as a table mat most often, but could also be used as other decorative items for the home as well as the sewing basket.

Originally, the mats that were made to protect table tops were covered with stacks of "pennies". The pennies were circular pieces of wool that were cut using the coins of the day as templates. Coins were different sizes than our modern currency.

In particular, the US penny was about 1¼" which is much larger than our current coin. The stacks of graduated size pennies were placed side by side on early mats. Both the edges of the pennies and the outer edge of the mat were stitched with a blanket stitch.

Stitches Needed

Backstitch

The backstitch is made by sewing up through 1 down through 2. Then up through 3, down through 4, up through 5, down through 6, etc. Each stitch is about ⅛" long.

Blanket Stitch

To make a blanket stitch, thread a needle with the floss and knot one of the two ends of thread.

The starter stitch begins between the two layers of wool felt. The needle is inserted between two layers, then down through the bottom layer and up over the tail.

Pull the thread tight which will set the knot between the layers.

Insert the needle down into the fabric, through both layers, and up inside the loop. Then, pull tight.

Repeat this along the edge of the fabric until you have completed the edging.

The stitching should be evenly spaced and have the loop along the seam between the two piece.

Design Side

With a pin or chalk, mark the fold line of the outer cover of the needle book. Looking at the picture, the needle book is 5" wide. Make sure you fold it in the right direction.

On one half of the front cover locate the two 2" hearts as shown and attach with a blanket stitch.

Using a blanket stick, attach a 1½" heart over each 2" heart. Repeat attaching the 1" heart over the 1½" heart.

Assembly

Lay the decorated side face down and place the outer cover on top. Center the inner pages on the outer cover and secure all with pins.

Backstitch through all layers along the fold line.

Finishing

Blanket stitch the outer edge of the cover to secure the two layers together, then fold and press.
